It is also the home of Ang Rita Sherpa, who holds the record for scaling Mt Everest ten times without oxygen and is thus known as "The Snow Leopard". It is also the home of Apa Sherpa, Nepal's most famous living climbing Sherpa and holder of the Guinness Book of Records for the summits of Everest the most times.

There is also a monastery swathed in mists and towering rock faces. This trek presents a true picture of the unique cultural and traditional life style of the Sherpa tribe who live in the thin-air zone of Nepal. The mountain village Sherpa people of the Khumbu region are of Tibetan origin originally who migrated south over the Himalayas hundreds of years ago and are renowned for their strength as high-altitude mountain climbing guides.

People of this area are very welcoming to the guest with a smile on their face. Thus, during this trek, you will get a fortuity to explore the Sherpa culture, customs and tradition. This trek gives chance to stretch out and relish some fabulous Himalayan hiking with plenty of time to relax and explore. Throughout this trail, you can enjoy the stunning views of the world's tallest mountains, Everest, Lho Tse, Nupse, Ama Dablam, Thamsherku and all the beautiful peaks around the Himalayan villages.

Thame Legendary takes us from the tiny airstrip at Lukla through the bustling Sherpa capital of Namche Bazaar then climbs gently from the madding crowds of the main trail up to mystical Thame. The air gets much thinner and cooler. From this small settlement we trek to a village on the old Tibetan salt route, Thame.

The ancestors of Sherpas were also Tibetan and came from Tibet, thus most of their way of life, culture, tradition, and religion are very similar. This program is designed for those who are seeking adventure and those who want to get a taste of the high mountain experience and be amongst the Sherpa community.

This trek is a combination of easy to moderate grade trek in which the trekkers have to walk an average of 5 to 6 hours per day gaining an altitude of 300 to 500 meters. The path and tracks are generally wide and well-marked. The one who is reasonably fit without any prior experience in trekking can walk through this trail.

But a trekking experience would work wonders while going through these trails. Your trek leaders will ensure we take a comfortable pace on the trail and you'll have Sherpa support every step of the way. The highlight of this trek is reaching the famous Sherpa village of Thame.
